MAYOR'S INTERFAITH BREAKFAST – JANUARY 19, 2015

Mayor Cindy Rosenthal and the Norman Human Rights Commission invite the community to the Mayor's Interfaith Breakfast honoring the legacy of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. on Monday, Jan. 19, at First Baptist Church of Norman's Hallock Hall, 211 W. Comanche St. Doors will open at 7:00am, with buffet breakfast following at 7:30am, and program beginning at 8:00am.

"It is always exciting to welcome our many diverse faith groups and the community at large as we come together for this joyous occasion. It has grown over the years and has become a tradition in the celebration of justice and equality," said Mayor Rosenthal.

Keynote speaker will be Marilyn Luper-Hildreth, daughter of the late Oklahoma civil rights activist Clara Luper. An advocate for social justice in her own right since childhood, Ms. Luper-Hildreth was one of the original "sit-inners" at the Oklahoma City Katz Drugstore sit-ins of 1958. She has participated in every major civil rights march over the years, and speaks widely on civil rights and social justice issues.

Prayers and music will be offered by representatives of several diverse faiths.

The event is free and open to the public. Please RSVP to Jayme.Rowe@NormanOK.gov by Jan. 14.
